Native American Culture

The Cultural Competency Academy (CCA) is currently recruiting participants for their fourth cohort, which begins September 2015. The Cultural Competency Training Series is a yearlong commitment with an eLearning, 4-7 in-class modules, and a practicum with capstone designed to create change within their agencies and practice.

Please use the links below to view the schedule dates and times for the Cultural Competency Academy Trainings. They are broken down to management staff, admin support staff, and direct service/clinician staff tracks. Each track has a unique curriculum tailored to his/her job skills. All participants will start with a culture-specific introductory class. It is important to note that only the Direct Service staff will continue to receive culture specific information whereas the Program Managers and Admin Support staff will then receive information on how to create a culturally competent workforce and environment within their agency.

- Management staff
- Admin Support staff
- Direct Service

We are asking each program/agency to please provide 1 Program Manager, 1 Admin Support staff, and 2 Direct Service staff to the same cultural group so that they may complete a practicum as a group. At minimum 1 Program Manager and 1 Direct Service staff must attend. TERM providers wanting to attend the direct service track do not require a team registration. Registration can be found on the CCA website.
