Overview of Adult Protective Services In-Person Training

MODULE 1
HALF-DAY TRAINING
INTRODUCTION

The Adult Protective Services (APS) Training Project, comprised of the California Regional Training Academies, worked to identify training needs, priorities and emerging issues among county Aging & Adult Services staff - with an emphasis on APS and In-Home Support Services (IHSS) training priorities. The Project worked in numerous partnerships to develop APS training curriculum and deliver core and specialized training to enhance the skills and knowledge of county social workers who serve vulnerable seniors and adults with disabilities within the State of California.

The APS Training Project's overarching goal was to develop and deliver statewide, standardized core curricula for new APS/IHSS social workers and to share these trainings on a national scale through partnerships with the National Adult Protective Services Association (NAPSA). Professional training opportunities are a critical step toward ensuring APS social workers have the appropriate tools to serve their clients.

To date, there are 23 APS Core Modules recognized as a national standard. These modules are available in a variety of modalities (in-class, eLearning, Supervisor Workbooks, Webinar, etc.) and can be accessed at http://theacademy.sdsu.edu/programs/master/core-curriculum/.

The Project is a founding member of the National APS Training Partnership with NAPSA.

TRAINING GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

By the end of this training, participants will be able to:

1. Describe APS Clients.

2. Explain APS worker’s roles and responsibilities including APS practice principles and service goals.

3. Evaluate simple APS referrals.

4. Develop a basic case plan.

5. Apply key terminology used in APS.
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Course Title: Overview of APS – Half-Day In-Person Training

APS workers need to have an understanding of the job they are expected to perform. This includes knowing who their clients are, under what circumstances they are expected to intervene, and what interventions they are expected to provide.

The following instructional strategies are used: lecture segments; interactive activities/exercises (e.g. small group discussion, case studies); question/answer periods; PowerPoint slides; video clips; participant guide (encourages self-questioning and interaction with the content information); and embedded pre/post evaluation to assess training content and process.

Course Requirements:
Please note that training participants are expected to participate in a variety of in-class and post-training evaluation activities. These activities are designed to enhance the learning experience and reinforce the skill acquisition of training participants as well as determine the overall effectiveness of the trainings.

An executive summary of each training and directions for post-training evaluation activities will be provided to training participants and their supervisors.

Target Audience:
This course is designed for new APS social workers as well as Vulnerable Adult Abuse partners (e.g. conservatorship investigators, workers in the aging and disability networks, law enforcement). This training is also appropriate for senior staff that require knowledge and/or skills review.

Outcome Objectives for Participants:
Learning goals – Upon completion of this training session, participants will be able to:

1. Describe APS Clients.
2. Explain APS worker's roles and responsibilities including APS practice principles and service goals.
3. Evaluate simple APS referrals.
4. Develop a basic case plan.
5. Apply key terminology used in APS.

Transfer of Learning: Ways supervisors can support the transfer of learning from the training room to on the job.

BEFORE the training
Supervisors can encourage line staff to attend the training and help them identify particular questions they have about APS clients, casework, etc. Training participants can ask questions during training.

AFTER the training
Supervisors can read the training executive summary. Supervisor can meet with trainee to learn what specific knowledge and skills they obtained from the training and how they intend to use them on the job. If further staff involvement is available, trainees may present an overview of what was learned to other staff members to encourage collaboration and a culture of learning.

Dear Training Participant,

As a training program for the Academy for Professional Excellence at San Diego State University School of Social Work, MASTER (Multi-disciplinary Adult Services Training & Evaluation for Results) has begun a process of evaluating training delivered to Adult Protective Service workers. As part of this evaluation, we need your help.

At certain points during this training series, in addition to the usual workshop evaluation forms, you will be asked to complete various training evaluation activities.

These training evaluation activities have two main purposes:

1. To improve trainings’ effectiveness and relevance to your needs, and help you better serve adults and their families; and
2. To see if the training has been effective in getting its points across.

Our goal is to evaluate training, NOT the individuals participating in the training.

In order to evaluate how well the training is working, we need to link each person’s assessment data using a code. You will generate the code number using the first three letters of your mother’s maiden name, the first three letters of your mother’s first name, and the numerals for the day you were born. Please put this 8-digit ID code on each of your assessment forms, exactly the same way each time. ID code information will only be used to link demographic data to test data to ensure that the training is working equally well for all participants. Once this linking is done, we will only be looking at class aggregate scores, rather than individual scores.

Only you will know your ID code refers to you. All individual responses to evaluation exercises are confidential and will only be seen by the Academy’s training program and evaluation staff. Only group averages and percentages will be reported. Individual results will not be reported to your employer. Aggregate data may be used for future research to improve training for Adult Protective Service workers.
If you agree to participate, you will fill out a questionnaires administered before and after the training. The questionnaire will be coded with a unique identifier system and all responses will be confidential.

There are no foreseeable risks to you from participating. There is also no direct benefit to you. Your responses will contribute to the development of a series of evaluation tools that will be able to accurately assess the effectiveness of adult protective service training. It is hoped that these tools will assist the Academy for Professional Excellence in improving training for adult protective service workers and therefore improve services to adults and families.

Your participation is voluntary and you may withdraw your consent and participation at any time. Participation or non-participation will have no effect on your completion of this training series.

By completing and submitting the questionnaire, you agree to participate. You further agree to permit us to use your anonymous responses in written reports about the questionnaires.

Your help with this evaluation process is greatly appreciated. Your feedback will be instrumental in helping to improve adult protective service training for future participants. If you have any questions about the evaluation or how the data you provide will be used, please contact:

YOUR IDENTIFICATION CODE:

In order for us to track your evaluation responses while maintaining your anonymity, we need to assign you an identification code. We would like you to create your own identification code by answering the following questions:

1. What are the first three letters of your mother’s maiden name?
   Example: If your mother’s maiden name was Alice Smith, the first three letters would be: S M I. If the name has less than three letters, fill in the letters from the left and add 0 (zero) in the remaining space(s) on the right.
   ___  ___  ___

2. What are the first three letters of your mother’s First name?
   Example: If your mother’s maiden name was Alice Smith, the first three letters would be: A L I. If the name has less than three letters, fill in the letters from the left and add 0 (zero) in the remaining space(s) on the right.
   ___  ___  ___

3. What are the numerals for the DAY you were born?
   Example: If you were born on November 29, 1970, the numerals would be 2 9. If your birth date is the 1st through the 9th, please put 0 (zero) in front of the numeral (example 0 9).
   ___  ___

Combine these parts to create your own identification code (example: S M I A L I 2 9).

Please write your identification code in the space at the top right corner of all evaluation materials you receive.

Remember your identification code and write it at the top of every evaluation form provided to you throughout this training.
LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Probate conservatorship is for people who need help and supervision as a result of other impairments, including dementia. Guardianship is for children under the age of 18. There are two types of conservatorships in California:
- Conservatorship of person refers to the handling of an individual’s personal needs through the provision of medical care, food, clothing and shelter |

| Protective Orders (or restraining orders) | Protective Orders (or restraining orders) are court-issued orders to protect people from harm or harassment. Criminal orders are usually issued by prosecutors or judges as part of criminal cases/ Civil orders are initiated by victims in civil actions. California has a domestic violence order and a special order for victims of elder and dependent adult abuse (W&I Code § 15657.03). Provisions that can be requested include:

- Personal conduct orders prevent restrained parties from abusing, attacking, striking, stalking, threatening, harassing, or contacting the protected party, or destroying their personal property.
- Stay-away orders provide that restrained parties must stay a specified distance (e.g., 100 yards) away from protected persons and their homes, jobs, workplaces, vehicles, and/or other places.
- Residence exclusions, or “move-out” orders, require restrained persons to move out of protected persons’ residences.
- No-contact orders prohibit restrained persons from contacting victims.
- Other. Orders may contain a variety of additional provisions such as requiring restrained persons to surrender firearms.

Emergency protective orders (EPOs) are typically issued at the request of law enforcement personnel who have been called to victims’ residences (officers contact the court and speak with judicial officers who order the EPOs over the phone). Temporary orders of protection may be issued by civil courts when cases are first filed and are valid until the next court date is set. |

| Residential care facilities | Also referred to as “board and care homes” or “assisted living facilities,” these facilities provide housing, meals, and personal services in a family-like atmosphere. RCFs serve people who are no longer able to perform all their activities of daily living but who do not require medical care. |

| Respite Care | Respite Care offers relief to caregivers by giving them a break. Respite can be provided in many ways. Attendants, professionals or volunteers may come to the vulnerable person’s home to relieve a caregiver for a few hours, or the older person may be brought to an agency or day center. Some communities offer extended respite |
Regional Centers are nonprofit private corporations that contract with the Department of Developmental Services to provide or coordinate services and supports for individuals with developmental disabilities. They have offices throughout California to provide a local resource to help find and access the many services available to individuals and their families.

GOALS OF APS PRACTICE (CALIFORNIA)

1. Determine if vulnerable adults’ basic needs are being met.
2. Determine if abuse, neglect or exploitation have occurred or are likely to occur.
3. Provide or arrange for services to reduce vulnerability, stop misconduct that is occurring and treat the effects.
4. Hold perpetrators accountable.

Slide #41

DETERMINING IF VULNERABLE ADULTS’ BASIC NEEDS ARE BEING MET

APS workers typically make home visits to determine how vulnerable elders are managing. They may use functional assessment tools:

- Activities of Daily Living (ADL) Scales
- Instrumental Activities of Daily Living (IADL) Scales
Katz Index of Independence in Activities of Daily Living (ADL)

By: Mary Sheiky, PhD, ARNP, Virginia Mason Medical Center, and Meredith Wallace, PhD, APRN, BC, Fairfield University School of Nursing

WHY: Normal aging changes and health problems frequently show themselves as declines in the functional status of older adults. Decline may place the older adult on a spiral of ill health leading to further health problems. One of the best ways to evaluate the health status of older adults is through functional assessment which provides objective data that may indicate future decline or improvement in health status, allowing the nurse to plan and intervene appropriately.

BEST TOOLS: The Katz Index of Independence in Activities of Daily Living, commonly referred to as the Katz ADL, is the most appropriate instrument to assess functional status as a measurement of the client's ability to perform activities of daily living independently. Clinicians typically use the tool to detect problems in performing activities of daily living and to plan care accordingly. The Index ranks adequacy of performance in the six functions of bathing, dressing, toileting, transfer, continence, and feeding. Clients are scored yearly for independence in each of the six functions. A score of 6 indicates full function, 4 indicates moderate impairment, and 2 or less indicates severe functional impairment.

TARGET POPULATION: The instrument is most effectively used among older adults in a variety of care settings, when baseline measurements, taken when the client is well, are compared to periodic or subsequent measures.

VALIDITY AND RELIABILITY: In the forty-eight years since the instrument has been developed, it has been modified and simplified and different approaches to scoring have been used. However, it has consistently demonstrated its utility in evaluating functional status in the elderly population. Although no formal reliability and validity reports could be found in the literature, the tool is used extensively as a flag signaling functional capabilities of older adults in clinical and home environments.

STRENGTHS AND LIMITATIONS: The Katz ADL Index assesses basic activities of daily living. It does not assess more advanced activities of daily living. Katz developed another scale for instrumental activities of daily living such as heavy housework, shopping, managing finances, and telephoning. Although the Katz ADL Index is sensitive to changes in declining health status, it is limited in its ability to measure small increments of change seen in the rehabilitation of older adults. A full comprehensive geriatric assessment should follow when appropriate. The Katz ADL Index is very useful in creating a common language about patient function for all practitioners involved in overall care planning and discharge planning.

The Lawton Instrumental Activities of Daily Living (IADL) Scale

By: Carla Graf, PhD(c), MS, RN, CCNS-BC, University of California, San Francisco

The assessment of functional status is critical when caring for older adults. Normal aging changes, acute illness, worsening chronic illness, and hospitalization can contribute to a decline in the ability to perform tasks necessary to live independently in the community. Information from functional assessment can provide objective data to assist with targeting individualized rehabilitation needs or to plan for specific in-home services such as meal preparation, nursing and personal care, homemaker services, financial and medication management, and/or continuous supervision. A functional assessment can also guide the clinician to focus on the person’s baseline capabilities, facilitating early recognition of changes that may signify a need either for additional resources or a medical work-up (Gallo & Pavesi, 2009).

Best Tools: The Lawton Instrumental Activities of Daily Living Scale (IADL) is an appropriate instrument to assess independent living skills (Lawton & Brody, 1969). These skills are considered more complex than the basic activities of daily living as measured by the Katz Index of ADLs (See The Katz Index of ADLs). The instrument is most useful for identifying how a person is functioning at the present time and for identifying improvement or deteriorations over time. There are 8 domains of function measured with the Lawton IADL scale. Historically women were scored on all 8 domains of function, men were not scored in the domains of food preparation, housekeeping, and Fnaking. However, current recommendations are to assess all domains for both men and women (Lawton, Moss, Pulkowski, & Rehak, 2000). Persons are scored according to the highest level of functioning in that category. A summary score ranges from 0 (low function, dependent) to 8 (high function, independent).

Target Population: This instrument is intended to be used among older adults, and may be used in community, clinic, or hospital settings. The instrument is not useful for institutionalized older adults. It may be used as a baseline assessment tool and to compare baseline function to periodic assessments.

Validity and Reliability: Few studies have been performed to test the Lawton IADL scale psychometric properties. The Lawton IADL Scale was originally tested concurrently with the Physical and Mental Health Scale (PHS). Reliability was established with twelve subjects interviewed by one interviewer followed by the second interviewer not participating in the interview process. Inter-rater reliability was established at 0.95. The validity of the Lawton IADL was tested by determining the correlation of the Lawton IADL with four scales: that measured domains of functional status, the Physical Classification (6-point rating of physical health), Mental Status Questionnaire (10-point test of orientation and memory), Behavioral and Adjustment Rating Scale (8-point rating of relationships, personal, behavioral and social adjustment), and the PHS (6-item ADL). A total of 120 research subjects participated in the study, however, few used all the evaluations. All correlations were significant at the 0.01 or 0.05 level. To avoid potential gender bias at the time the instrument was developed, specific items were added for men. This assessment instrument is widely used both in research and clinical practice.

Strengths and Limitations: The Lawton IADL is an easy to administer assessment instrument that provides self-reported information about functional skills necessary to live in the community. Administration time is 10–15 minutes. Specific deficits identified can assist nursing and other disciplines in planning for hospital discharge.

A limitation of the instrument is the self-report or surrogate report method of administration rather than a demonstration of the functional task. This may lead to overestimation or underestimation of ability. In addition, the instrument may not be sensitive to small, incremental changes in function.

Follow-Up: The identification of new disabilities in these functional domains warrants intervention and additional assessment to prevent ongoing decline and to promote social living skills for older adults. If using the Lawton IADL with an acute hospitalization, nurses should communicate any deficits to the physicians and social workers/other managers for appropriate discharge planning.

CAPACITY ASSESSMENTS

May be needed to:
- Determine if abuse has occurred
- Determine what interventions are available and appropriate

Several simple screening tools are available to help detect problems. Examples include:
- The Montreal Cognitive Assessment (MoCA®)
- Clock Drawing Test/Mini Cog Assessment
- Trail Making Test
Clock Drawing Test

Patient's Name: ___________________________  Date: ___________________
Instructions for the Clock Drawing Test:

Step 1: Give patient a sheet of paper with a large (relative to the size of handwritten numbers) predrawn circle on it. Indicate the top of the page.

Step 2: Instruct patient to draw numbers in the circle to make the circle look like the face of a clock and then draw the hands of the clock to read "10 after 11."

Scoring:

Score the clock based on the following six-point scoring system:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Score</th>
<th>Error(s)</th>
<th>Examples</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>&quot;Perfect&quot;</td>
<td>No errors in the task</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Minor visuospatial errors</td>
<td>a) Mildly impaired spacing of times b) Draws times outside circle c) Turns page while writing so that some numbers appear upside down d) Draws in lines (spokes) to orient spacing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>Inaccurate representation of 10 after 11 when visuospatial organization is perfect or shows only minor deviations</td>
<td>a) Minute hand points to 10 b) Writes &quot;10 after 11&quot; c) Unable to make any denotation of time</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>Moderate visuospatial disorganization of times such that accurate denotation of 10 after 11 is impossible</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>Severe level of disorganization as described in scoring of 4</td>
<td>See examples for scoring of 4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>No reasonable representation of a clock</td>
<td>a) No attempt at all b) No semblance of a clock at all c) Writes a word or name</td>
</tr>

</table>

(Shulman et al., 1993)

Higher scores reflect a greater number of errors and more impairment. A score of ≥3 represents a cognitive deficit, while a score of 1 or 2 is considered normal.

Trail Making Test (TMT) Parts A & B

Instructions:
Both parts of the Trail Making Test consist of 25 circles distributed over a sheet of paper. In Part A, the circles are numbered 1 – 25, and the patient should draw lines to connect the numbers in ascending order. In Part B, the circles include both numbers (1 – 13) and letters (A – L); as in Part A, the patient draws lines to connect the circles in an ascending pattern, but with the added task of alternating between the numbers and letters (i.e., 1-A-2-B-3-C, etc.). The patient should be instructed to connect the circles as quickly as possible, without lifting the pen or pencil from the paper. Time the patient as he or she connects the “trail.” If the patient makes an error, point it out immediately and allow the patient to correct it. Errors affect the patient’s score only in that the correction of errors is included in the completion time for the task. It is unnecessary to continue the test if the patient has not completed both parts after five minutes have elapsed.

Step 1: Give the patient a copy of the Trail Making Test Part A worksheet and a pen or pencil.
Step 2: Demonstrate the test to the patient using the sample sheet (Trail Making Part A – SAMPLE).
Step 3: Time the patient as he or she follows the “trail” made by the numbers on the test.
Step 4: Record the time.
Step 5: Repeat the procedure for Trail Making Test Part B.

Scoring:
Results for both TMT A and B are reported as the number of seconds required to complete the task; therefore, higher scores reveal greater impairment.

PRINCIPLES OF CAPACITY ASSESSMENT

Capacity is specific to the task at hand. Various tasks and decisions required different types and levels of capacity.

- Does your client understand their situation?
- Does your client understand the risks of their behavior?
- Does your client understand the benefits of accepting help?

Slide #44

Your assessment of whether the client has the mental facility to understand the elements of their situation as well as the risks and benefits will determine whether you can walk away if they refuse services or whether you need to refer the client for a full geriatric assessment.

Slide #45

People of all ages have the right to make poor decisions and engage in risky behaviors. However, you need to determine whether your client understands the risk.
Slide #46

Does your client understand the benefits of accepting help?

You will also need to assess whether your client is able to understand the benefits of accepting help. Sometimes clients are able to articulate the risks of their behavior but they can't imagine the small changes that would minimize those risks and allow them to stay somewhat safely in their own home.

Slide #47

FACTORS FOR CASE PLANNING

- Client capacity to consent
- Client perception of the problem
- Client wishes and motivation
- Worker perception of problem & level of threat
- Services that client is eligible for/available
- Client formal/informal supports

CASE STUDY ACTIVITY

Read the case study about Mr. Adams and decide how you might proceed.
Handout #13 Case Study – Mr. Adams – Participant Version

Directions: In your small groups, choose a note taker and read the scenario and answer the questions that follow. Be prepared to share your answers with the large group.

APS Report

Mr. Adams is 86 years old. He suffers from diabetes and is confined to a wheelchair. After his wife died two years ago, he moved in with his two daughters, Linda and Barbara, who share a two-bedroom apartment. The older man sleeps on the living room couch. The arrangement was intended to be temporary, but Linda and Barbara have not been able to find him another place to live.

A neighbor called APS reporting that the older man is left sitting in front of the television for many hours at a time, often in urine. The last time she visited him, he asked her for a glass of water and drank two glasses in rapid succession. She also noted that he seems to have lost weight. She expressed her concerns to Linda and Barbara who became very defensive. Since then, they have not allowed her to visit.

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Psychological abuse which includes fear, agitation, confusion, severe depression and other forms of serious emotional distress that are brought about by threats, harassment and intimidation.</td>

MODULE 1

-65-
Financial abuse includes the taking, secreting or appropriating money or property of an elder or dependent adult by a person who has the care or custody of, or who is in a position of trust to, that elder or dependent adult.

Abduction means the removal from this state and/or the restraint from returning to this state of any elder or dependent adult who does not have the capacity to consent to the removal from or restraint from returning to this state.

Abandonment means the desertion or willful forsaking of an elder or a dependent adult by anyone who has care or custody of that person under circumstances in which a reasonable person would continue to provide care and custody.

Isolation means prevention from receiving phone calls or mail, false imprisonment or physical restraint from meeting with visitors.

Neglect means the negligent failure of any person, including the individual having the care or custody of an elder or a dependent adult, to exercise that degree of care that a reasonable person, in a like position, would exercise.

Self-neglect means the negligent failure of an elder or dependent adult to exercise that degree of self-care that a reasonable person in a like position would exercise.

Planning the Home Visit

1. If this was your case, think about who you would want to talk to during your home visit. Check all that apply.

- [ ] Mr. Adams
