February 18th, 2016 – 10:00 am – 11:00 am

Course Developer

Paula Hammack,
Assistant Director
Department of Family Services
Clark County, Nevada

Intended Audience

Child Welfare Staff and Administrators who currently manage and operate emergency shelter facilities in California

What You Will Learn

- Hear about success and challenges in converting emergency shelter into a 23 hour assessment center in Clark County, Nevada.
- Be able to consider lessons learned from their experience that will assist in planning for the shelter in your county as Continuum of Care Reform is implemented
- Be able to take a long term view approach for eliminating the use of shelter placements and identify ways implementation science can assist your efforts

How You Will Benefit

This is an opportunity to hear directly from a large child welfare jurisdiction about their experiences in converting their emergency shelter to a 24 hour assessment center. Clark County, Nevada will share the history of the Child Haven Emergency Shelter Campus, their planning approach for their conversion, what worked well and what were some of the lessons learned, as well as current efforts underway to eliminate uses of shelter care for children with challenging placement considerations

Continuing Education

Fulfills the requirement for annual training hours.
