Behavioral Health & Education Training Academy presents
Introduction to Geriatric Mental Health

Certificate Training Description

This introductory training will support community mental health by providing awareness, knowledge and skills to mental health, aging, primary care and allied professionals on the biopsychosocial health related issues and risk factors of older adults and their families/caregivers. Two eLearnings will also be required for the completion of the certificate.

The Geriatric Certificate Training Program will address the following goals:
- Assess and determine treatment
- Provide services in a culturally and spiritually consistent manner
- Provide appropriate referrals and resources
- Recognize the unique needs of older adults
