Lead Presenter

Bonnie Olsen, Ph.D. is a clinical psychologist with extensive experience as a Geropsychologist, working in academic medicine for over 20 years. As the Vice Chair of Academic Affairs in the Department of Family Medicine at the Keck School of Medicine at USC. Dr. Olsen is involved in a number of research and program grants that focus on elder abuse education and prevention. She is particularly interested in elder mistreatment and self-neglect as it occurs in the context of dementia and understanding decisional capacity. Dr. Olsen has worked directly with Adult Protective Services providing capacity assessments for their clients and has guest lectured throughout the country on the topic. She is a passionate advocate and expert for elder justice.

Learning Objectives

In Day 1, participants will:

- Learn about an emerging practice in the management of elder abuse and neglect cases that has demonstrated promising results in Massachusetts and New York.
- Gain the ability to administer the IDA 3.0-CA and learn how to effectively present the findings to their supervisor.
- Appreciate the contribution that the use of a structured interview tool for clarifying client decisional capacity makes to strong case documentation
- Be able to identify cases where the results of IDA 3.0-CA could contribute to deciding whether a client should be referred for a formal capacity evaluation.

Multi-disciplinary Adult Services Training and Evaluation for Results (MASTER) is a program of Academy for Professional Excellence, a project of the San Diego State University School of Social Work.
