

Intersectionality of Identities

Presented by L. Tuiletufuga and David Vance,

Course Code: BH0245

Course Description

This training will explore a range of topics related to the intersection of various identities. Some of the intersecting points of identity that will be discussed include race/ethnicity, socio-economic status, gender/gender identity, sexual orientation, and ability. The trainers will explore the history of these components of identity as social institutions and constructs (power structures), as well as how they impact the lives of real people. Additionally, best practices about how to work with people receiving services using an intersectional lens as a means of improving trauma-informed care will be covered.
