Currently not a strength. Considerable building/effort required to identify or create strengths.

Strength is potentially useful. Strength requires building in order to be useful to the individual or for planning.

Well-developed centerpiece strength. Easily accessible and very useful for the individual and for planning.

Strength is useful. Strength is evident and can be accessed; strength could be useful for planning.

Action Levels: Strengths