

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY - HOW TO TALK ABOUT ELDER ABUSE

APS is essential to preventing and addressing abuse, neglect and exploitation of older and dependent adults. The presence and messaging of APS plays a large role in how the public perceives, talks about, and reacts to elder abuse. APS supervisors play an important role with the community, their staff, and community partners/stakeholders.

In this interactive, multi-module training, learn what factors currently influence the way the public thinks about elder abuse and practice a new communication strategy developed by the National Center on Elder Abuse, in conjunction with the Frameworks Institute. Resources, toolkits and other helpful information will be shared to help participants continue the reframing process.

Virtual Training:

- The following virtual instructional strategies are used throughout the course: short lectures (lecturettes), interactive activities/exercises including breakout groups, chat box discussions, large group discussions, self-reflection, poll options, and individual practice. - Participants will need access to a computer with video conferencing capability and be able to connect to the virtual platform being used to deliver this training.
