The Cornell-Penn Interview for Decisional Abilities (IDA)
IDA Practitioner Course Participation Agreement

This form MUST be completed before learner can enroll in the IDA Practitioner course.

Certification as an Interview for Decisional Abilities (IDA) Practitioner represents a high standard of professional practice.

An IDA Practitioner certification is granted at the conclusion of IDA Practitioner online course when the participant successfully completes the course and evaluation requirements. The certification allows the practitioner to use the IDA tool in the field.

The IDA Practitioner course is designed to provide Adult Protective Services workers with a deep understanding of the Interview for Decisional Abilities tool and the ability to practice the IDA accurately and consistently in the field. This process affirms our commitment to ensure that IDA is implemented by Adult Protective Services workers to capture an individual's general understanding and personal appreciation of risk as well as their ability to make reasoned decisions about service options.

Requirements for IDA Practitioner certification include completion of the following:

- Read and complete assignments in IDA modules 1-6
- Participation: Live Role Play Workshop
- Live Workshop Completion Survey
- Field Assignment: Complete and submit a Cornell-Penn IDA
- Check Your Understanding: Final Exam
- Program Completion Survey

Participants agree to practice in accordance with IDA principles taught in the course and follow these guidelines while using the IDA in the field. Privileges associated with IDA Practitioner certification include the ability to practice the IDA in the field and access to the online IDA course for an additional year.

I acknowledge that I have read and will honor the IDA Practitioner Course Participation Agreement. I acknowledge that I have read the Terms of Use and agree to its terms and conditions.

Terms of Use

Terms and Conditions Agreement

To access the Cornell-Penn Interview for Decisional Abilities (IDA) training course (the "Course"), you must attest that you have read and agree to the terms and conditions contained in this Terms and Conditions Agreement. The term "Course" includes the course web pages and all associated materials, including documents that you download or copy. Read this Terms and Conditions Agreement carefully. This agreement commences on the date that you accept this Agreement and remains in effect as long as you possess or use any Course materials.

Use of Course Materials

All Course materials are the property of Cornell University ("Cornell") or of third parties and used under permission granted to Cornell and may only be used in the manner detailed in this Terms and Conditions Agreement. Permission to use Course material in any other way must be obtained in writing from Cornell. The Course is solely for your own professional use in the jurisdiction that has paid for this Course on your behalf (the "Jurisdiction"). As a Course registrant, you may view and read all materials that are part of the Course. You may also print any screens or pdf files for your own use in taking the Course, and you may continue to use them for your own professional use in the Jurisdiction. You do not have permission to share, communicate, publish, display, make derivative works, or in any manner distribute any part of the Course to anyone else. Your rights to use the Course terminates when your employment for the Jurisdiction terminates.

Course Access and Your Behavior

Only Course registrants have access to the Course. You may not share your login credentials with anyone.

You also agree to behave in a professional manner while participating in the Course, and not to harass or threaten any other Course participants, instructors, or moderators. You agree to all the terms and conditions of Instructure's Acceptable Use Policy and Weill Cornell Medicine's Web Terms of Use.

Content You Contribute

You shall not post content that is owned by a third party to the Course, or any content not relevant to the Course. You may provide a link to third party content that is relevant to the Course. If you post any content in the Course, you hereby grant Cornell a royalty-free, nonexclusive, irrevocable license to use such content without restriction, including without limitation the rights to use, copy, modify, merge, publish, distribute, and sublicense.

Privacy

You agree that Cornell may retain your registration information and may share the results of your participation in the Course with the Jurisdiction, including any certifications you earn, or the lack thereof. Cornell may contact you about future course offerings.

Limitation of Liability

You agree that the liability of Cornell, its affiliates, directors, officers, contractors, employees, agents and licensors, if any, arising out of any kind of legal claim (whether in contract, tort or otherwise) in any way connected with the Course or the content therein shall not exceed the amount that you or your employer paid for the Course.

In no event shall Cornell, its affiliates, directors, officers, contractors, employees, agents and licensors be liable to you or to any third party for any special, incidental, indirect, consequential, or punitive damages of any kind, or any damages whatsoever resulting from loss of use, data or profits, whether or not advised of the possibility of damage, and on any theory of liability (whether in contract, tort or otherwise), arising out of or in connection with the use or performance of the Course.

THE COURSE IS PROVIDED "AS IS," AND YOU RELY ON THE TRAINING AND ITS CONTENTS AT YOUR OWN RISK. THERE ARE NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO: NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE; NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES AS TO THE ACCURACY OR COMPLETENESS OF THE SERVICE; AND NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES THAT THE SERVICE OR ANYTHING ELSE PROVIDED PURSUANT TO THIS AGREEMENT WILL NOT INFRINGE PROPRIETARY RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES.

Governing Law and Venue

This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, without regard to conflicts of law principles and without regard to any presumption or rule requiring construction or interpretation against the party drafting or causing any instrument to be drafted. You hereby submit to and agree that the sole jurisdiction and venue for any actions that may arise under or in relation to the subject matter hereof shall be the courts located in the State of New York.
