

APS Leaders Institute

APS Funding & Realignment: What Does It Mean to You?

This workshop will provide an overview of how the Adult Protective Services (APS) program is funded in California at both state and county levels. The workshop will explain realignment, how it impacts funding for county programs and implications for APS funding. The workshop is a primer for adult services and APS leaders, including discussion on how to use this knowledge when communicating with county leaders about program budget, funding and resources for the APS program.

Leaders from San Mateo and Riverside counties will join the panel. They bring experience across human service program areas, and will share their fiscal and program expertise, including how intra-county budgeting requirements are managed.

Learning Objectives

- Learn the basics of state and county funding of adult services and the Adult Protective Services program
- Explore effective ways for program leaders to use fiscal knowledge
- Identify communication strategies and models you may wish to adopt
